

The Peggy & Jack Baskin Presidential Chair for Feminist Studies in collaboration with the Indigenous Border/Lands Collective present

March 9, 2023

UCSC Cowell Ranch Hay Barn
Free and open to the public

The Indigenous BorderLands

An exploration of the border/lands from indigenous perspectives across the Americas.

4PM
Theresa Gregor

Assistant Professor, American
Indian Studies, California State University Long Beach

Aa'a Mat Tipaay Ak'wee, Bringing Her/Voice
Back to the Land: Incomplete Repatriations in "The Autobiography of Delfina Cuero"

Dr. Gregor is Kumeyaay from the lipay Nation of Santa Ysabel and also Yoéme. Her research focuses on California American Indian women, sovereignty, literary and cultural repatriation, and tribal cultural resiliency and revitalization.

6PM
Harsha Walia

Migrant justice activist and author

Abolish Border Imperialism: Migration, Racial Capitalism and Empire

Harsha Walia is the author of Border and Rule: Global Migration, Capitalism, and the Rise of Racist Nationalism. Her work addresses how current migrant and refugee crises are the inevitable outcomes of conquest, capitalist globalization, and climate change, generating mass dispossession worldwide.

The Humanities
Institute
UC SANTA CRUZ

The Peggy
Jack
Baskin
Foundation

UCSC
FM
ST
FEMINIST STUDIES

UC SANTA CRUZ CENTER FOR RACIAL JUSTICE

UC SANTA CRUZ | Humanities

March 10, 2023 | Symposium

On Friday, March 10, interdisciplinary scholars from across the country will gather for a day-long, closed-session symposium to consider the concept of borders and the borderlands from indigenous perspectives across the Americas. Presentations across several symposium themes will result in publication of an Indigenous Borderlands journal in 2024.

Scan the Qr code for more info, zoom links, and a link to the Friday symposium schedule.
If interested in attending any or all of the Friday panels, please contact Lisa Supple (lsupple@ucsc.edu).

Registration & more information

ART CREDIT: Margo Tamez (Ndé) and Pierre Richard (Sylx)